NAMIBIA SAFARI SERVICES

Specialized in the shipping of hunting trophies

Namibia Safari Services celebrates 25 years of service

It is a remarkable achievement to succeed in a world that is becoming increasingly complicated especially in the sector that you dedicate your life and work to. For Heidrun and Harald Preschel it became second nature to navigate the complexities and intricacies of shipping wildlife products from Namibia into the world. It became part of their lives to keep up with every new rule and regulation in each country they deal with in all corners of the globe, accepting that one cannot take for granted that last month's requirement is still valid. Nothing is set in stone, because countries sometimes just introduce a temporary import regulation without warning, and the shipping agent in the country of origin is the responsible party to comply with all the rules.

But the well-respected duo, Heidrun and Harald Preschel, earned not only the support and trust of Namibian hunting operators and their international clients, they also inspired the next generation of Preschels. Their daughter Benita and son-in-law Kai Eichler returned from a nine year stint in Germany to join the ranks of the family business and are set to embrace the challenges as they come.

Harald and Heidrun and their dedicated team worked tirelessly for over two decades to provide a trusted service, shipping their clients' precious hunting trophies to destinations all over the world. It takes years of building a global network of partners in source markets in order to be able to find the best solution for each shipping challenge. The shipping company in the country of origin is responsible to comply with the rules and regulations of health and conservation agencies, as well as the customs requirements at the shipment's destination. Harald affiliated the NSS to international hunting associations to make sure that his company has a connection with the hunting clients and hunting professionals whose trust it has earned over the years.

The NSS team that renders the highest professional service: Saima Johannes, Esmarie Marais, Junias Shaanika, Heidrun and Harald Preschel, Benita Eichler, Joseph Iyambo, Tully Britz, Andreas Kalola, Kai Eichler, Okkies Ockhuizen and Marion Hübner.

Two generations of Preschels: Heidrun and Harald Preschel and Benita and Kai Eichler steer the business into the next era.

We thank our clients, business partners and our staff for the support, trust and commitment over all these years.
